Michael,

Just following up since I mentioned it when we spoke, the formal invitation from UCLA will not go out until mid-August. Not sure why. But they are VERY EXCITED that you are willing to be part of the conference, and please keep it on your calendar. I just didn't want you concerned when the invite lagged longer than I expected (not that you have any other things to focus on).

Hope you are well! D.

Hello, Michael.

I hope you had a great weekend and your on-going settling in at Region IX is going well. And thanks again for the opportunity to catch up on our Redwood City matter.

The purpose of this email is to see if you'd be willing to provide the keynote address at an annual UCLA Land Use & Planning conference that I co-chair. (<http://humanities.uclaextension.edu/public-policy/landuse/><<http://humanities.uclaextension.edu/public-policy/landuse/>> ) It will be held January 18, 2019 at the Biltmore in downtown LA. 2019 will be the 33rd Annual session. Recent keynotes have been given by Mayor Garcetti and CARB Chair Mary Nichols. If you would be willing and available, there is a formal invitation process that UCLA will initiate. But I thought I'd just check with you directly, first, before sicking the bureaucracy on you! Attendees include land use and regulatory lawyers, planners, local electeds, and city/county staff. Though convened in Southern California, it very much has a statewide focus and attendance.

Let me know if it is something you'd be willing/available to join us for. Many thanks! D.
